

Anne Arundel County Reading Council
PRESENTS

A workshop by Nathan Levy

Wednesday, April 5, 2017

4:30 -7:30

Food Provided!

at Carver Staff Development Center

Making Gifted Education More Inclusive

This workshop will share strategies that will enable highly capable children to display intelligence and thinking skills that might be missed. The activities will demonstrate ways to include children who might not be designated as gifted. Bring your thinking caps.

Nathan Levy (the author of Stories with Holes, Whose Clues? And Nathan Levy's 100 Intriguing Questions) is a gifted educator. In his thirty-five years as a teacher, principal and consultant, Nathan worked directly with children, teachers and parents. He has developed unique teaching strategies that encourage the love of learning. <http://www.storieswithholes.com/ind.html>

Registration limited to the first 100 people!

Please register at www.AACRC.net or email jmoodyreads@yahoo.com

Free to AACRC Members!

$5.00 for non-members, payable at the door.

